

EXERCISE.

Make sentences about animals in Molonga and East Wongo.

E.g. In Molonga there're more tigers than in East Wongo.

In Molonga there're some giraffes, but in East Wongo there aren't any.

In East Wongo there are many ...

monkey ['mʌŋki]

eagle
['i:gl]

snake [sneɪk]

tiger ['taɪgə]

giraffe [dʒɪ'ra:f] elephant ['elɪfənt]

lion ['laɪən]

crocodile ['krɒkədɪl]

zebra ['zebrə]

SHOPPING

F Can I help you, madam?
E I'd like a pair of shoes, please.
F What colour would you like?
E Brown.
F And what size are you?
E Six. Can I try them on?
F Of course.

A Could you show me some cameras, please?
B Certainly, madam... This one's very good.
A Yes, it is. How much is it?
B £199, madam.
A Oh, dear. That's very expensive.
B Hmm, I see... That one isn't expensive, madam.
A What make is it?
B It's a Kodak. It's £81.
A Hmm... Can you show it to me, please?

C How much are these tomatoes?
D £1.20. How much would you like?
C A kilo and a half.
D Anything else? How about some peppers?
C Half a kilo, please... and a kilo of cucumbers.
D It's £5.30 altogether.
C Here you are.
D Here's your change.

C Hmm ... I think my change is wrong!
D Are you sure? Let me see. Oh, yes... you need another 50 p.
C Yes, that's right.
D I'm terribly sorry.
C That's O.K.

You are in Molonga, a country with a nice climate and nice people. Its national currency is the molo. Make a conversation with the shop assistant.

